FIGHTING SWELLS TO GIGANTIC SCALE ON RUSSIAN FRONT

Nazis Attempt To Widen Wedges Into Red Defense Lines

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Adolf Hitler's invasion armies have swept across the upper Don river at several points, Soviet dispatches acknowledged today, while the Red armies are battling a dangerous new thrust into the Rossosh sector 100 miles south of Voronezh on the Moscow-Rostov railway.

The Nazi advance across the upper Don, 10 miles west of Voronezh, came after the Russians reported they had beaten off a series of violent assaults and inflicted bloody losses on the enemy.

Front-line dispatches said furious battles were developing on the east bank of the river as the Germans attempted to widen their wedges into Red army defense lines.

The bulk of the fourth German tank army was said to be massed on the west bank to reinforce the offensive against Voronezh.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters declared broadly that Russian forces in retreat were being pursued "on a broad front" in the south—evidently referring to the Voronezh and Rossosh sectors.

"Local resistance was broken," the Nazi command asserted. "Enemy attacks supported by tanks to relieve pressure northwest of Voronezh broke down with heavy casualties."

The Nazi high command still failed to reiterate its claim, however, that Voronezh had fallen.

Dispatches to Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, said the fighting had swelled to a gigantic scale, with the Germans pouring in masses of fresh reserves and tanks. Russian estimates had previously declared the Nazi grand offensive was powered by 1,000,000 troops.

"Conditions west of Voronezh are becoming more complicated," Red Star said.

Front-line dispatches said the Russians withdrew in good order toward Rossosh to avoid being flanked, but conceded that the invaders had penetrate dinto Russian defenses in depth.

Red Star said an important Red army counter-attack to relieve the pressure on Voronezh was threatening the German left flank.

"Stubborn battles there may have a serious influence over the position near Voronezh," the newspaper said.

It did not disclose the scene of the Soviet counter-blow, but Hitler's headquarters said the Russ-

New Repulse For Japanese Is Reported

Chungking, July 10—(AP)—The Chinese high command announced today the recapture of Chungshu, 45 miles southwest of Nanchang, in a new repulse of the Japanese and a sharp set-back of the invaders' latest push along the Kiangsi rail line to Hunan Province.

Also recaptured, the Chinese said, was the town of Tsungjen, 70 miles south of the Japanese base at Nanchang.

The high command confirmed Chinese dispatches which reported yesterday that a Japanese force of 30,000 had been ambushed and beaten back to the north and east in heavy fighting in Kiangsi.

The first fruits of that repulse were the recapture of Nancheng, Ihwang and Poyang, into which Japanese columns had stabbed from Nanchang and the Chekiang border to the east.

The Chinese gains took on an even larger significance with the reported recapture of Tsungjen, where the Japanese had driven south toward Kwangtung province, and Changshu where the invaders had reached the Kiangsi-Hunan railway.

The Japanese had taken Changshu early this week in the start of a new phase of their apparent campaign to establish a rail route from Shanghai to Singapore. Their conquest through Chekiang province and into Kiangsi gave them lines from Shanghai to Nanchang.

Vessels Sunk Since Pearl Harbor Now 350

By the Associated Press

The navy today announced the sinking of a U. S. cargo ship off the coast of South America with the loss of 11 members of its 29-man crew, bringing to 13 the number of United Nations' vessels reported this week as destroyed by enemy u-boats in the western Atlantic.

The torpedoing raised the unofficial Associated Press tabulation of Allied and neutral cargo vessels sunk in Atlantic waters since Pearl Harbor to 350.

It was the 23rd sinking reported in waters off South America since December 7.

BRITISH PROD AXIS LINES IN NORTH AFRICA

Rommel's Armored Right Flank Toward Sea Squeezed by Mobile Columns Near El Alamein

U. S. BOMBERS ACTIVE

BY EDWARD KENNEDY

Cairo, July 10—(AP)—British mobile columns southwest of El Alamein squeezed Field Marshal Edwin Rommel's armored right flank back toward the sea today while United States bombers and British submarines sought to cut his Mediterranean supply line.

(A British broadcast quoted reports from Ankara that the Axis was moving reinforcements to North Africa from the Balkans, pulling German troops from Yugoslavia and even Crete in an effort to restore Rommel's striking power.)

British headquarters announced that long-range United States bombers hunting Axis ships in the Mediterranean shot down two German fighter planes which attempted to intercept them.

(An Admiralty communique in London credited a single British submarine with sinking one merchant ship from a strongly-guarded Axis convoy bound for Libya and sending a naval auxiliary vessel to the bottom.)

The change in Rommel's line eliminated a sharp angle where the German front turns back to the west. Now the line forms an arc extending from the coast west of El Alamein into the desert some 30 miles south of El Daba.

The British maneuver apparently was a continuation of the sallies which hard-hitting armored patrols have been carrying out daily to keep Rommel on the defensive and thereby postpone a showdown in the battle for Egypt.

Allied bombers meanwhile, were reported blasting at the Axis leaders' tenuous lines of communication and were credited with destroying more than 50 enemy transport vehicles in one assault.

United States heavy bombers, participating in the RAF operations, ranged over the Mediterranean in search of Axis supply ships and shot down two enemy fight-

FIND BODIES OF SCORE IN W. VA., MINE

Officials Indicate It Will Be Only Matter of Hours Before Victims Will Be Removed

LARGE NUMBER ESCAPE

Morgantown, W. Va., July 10.—(AP)—Rescue workers early today located the bodies of 20 men from the Pursglove Company's No. 2 mine, where an explosion and a fire had trapped two crews of miners four and a half miles inside the workings.

Officials indicated it would be only a matter of hours before the bodies of the men, killed in the blast yesterday, were taken from the mine.

Company officials said 70 of the mine's 300 employes were inside at the time of the blast and that 26 men had been definitely checked off as safe. Many others, however, began aiding the rescue work without reporting their escape.

Hampered in efforts to reach the blasted area because of fire, rescue workers believed the explosion victims had been trapped somewhere under the state of Pennsylvania. They explained that the mine, one of the newer operations in the rich Scott's Run field in northern West Virginia, is close to the West Virginia-Pennsylvania line.

About a year ago, No. 2 mine received a U. S. Bureau of Mines award for producing more than 3,000,000 tons of coal without a fatal accident.

A big crowd, including wives and children of the tropped men, formed around the entry within a few minutes.

Most of them stood silently, listening eagerly for every scrap of news which came out.

Many Request Supplemental Ration Books

Philadelphia, July 10—(AP)—Thousands of Pennsylvanians registered for permanent gasoline rationing cards today in the second day's enrollment, as State Office of Price Administration officials reported an unusually high number of requests for supplemental ration books.

While no figures were available for the percentage throughout the state, officials said approximately 75 percent of those registering in the Philadelphia area yesterday took out application blanks for books which would permit amounts higher than the OPA's basic unit of four gallons a week.

Throughout the state, officals reported the registration went smoothly. There was little crowding, and it was taken to indicate that registrants, after their experience in the draft, sugar and first gasoline enrollments, were getting used to signing up with the government.

R. A. Ashenfelter, state OPA director, noting the number of requests for supplemental rations, appealed to the public to refrain from jamming local boards with applications "until next week at the earliest."

"The boards have neither the regulations to govern the approval nor the facilities to work on them," he said.

For those who fail to get ration books today, special facilities will be set up Saturday to complete the registration.

London, July 10—(AP)—A Belgian government spokesman said today the Germans, fearful of invasion, had extended their "defense area" along the Belgian coast, forbidding all traffic except by special permit, and ordering residents not to travel more than three miles from home.

Bern, Switzerland, July 10—(AP)—G. A. Gripenberg, Finland's first minister to the Vatican, has arrived at Vatican City from Helsinki, a Swiss news agency dispatch said today. He formerly held diplomatic posts in Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 10—(AP)—Senator Herring (D-Iowa) said today the U. S. navy "has not as yet lost a single American soldier while under convoy to foreign shores." In the keynote speech before the Iowa Democratic convention, Herring deplored merchant shipping losses to submarines.

Berlin (From German Broadcasts), July 10—(AP)—German military quarters reported today that Nazi submarines and warplanes had sunk three more ships in attacks on a big British-American convoy en route to the Russian Arctic port of Archangel.

Gandhi Maps a New Course to Free India

Wizened Mohandas Ignores Heat and Exhaustion to Join in Conferences

IN AN UNUSUAL SETTING

Wardha, Ind., July 9 (Delayed) (AP)—Wizened Mohandas K. Gandhi brushed aside his physicians' advice to rest and went ahead with his Indian congress colleagues today in a conference seeking agreement on action to Free India from British rule without paving the way for the Japanese to come in.

Concerned about overwork and exhaustion from which the shrivelled little Indian leader has lost much ill-spared weight in the past three months, Gandhi's physicians have urged him to rest for two weeks as soon as possible. A medical bulletin said, however, there was no reason for anxiety.

In consideration for Gandhi's weakened condition, the conferees have been meeting in a one-room schoolhouse, part of Gandhi's school colony, at Sevagram, five miles from here.

A conference of such potential importance to the war situation scarcely could be held in less pretentious surroundings. Wardha is a formless, heat-ridden little city in India's cotton belt and the conference chamber is a small room in which the congress leaders sit barefooted on a padded quilt on the floor.

Gandhi, who is 72, never has been in robust health. His frailty drove him into seclusion in a

SOVIETS RAID FINN AND NORWAY BASES

Moscow, July 10—(AP)—Bombing German airdromes in northern Norway and Finland, the Red air force has inflicted heavy new damage on the bases from which German planes have been raiding ports and shipping of the Arctic supply line to Russia, warfront dispatches reported today.

The raids followed the Russian torpedoing of the powerful German battleship Tirpitz as it led a cruiser and destroyer force in an attempted attack on an Allied convoy bringing Russia supplies from England and the United States, the Russian accounts said.

Fund For The OPA Is Pared

Washington, July 10—(AP)—A senate appropriations subcommittee apporved today an appropriation of $120,000,000 to operate the Office of Price Administration for the current fiscal year—$90,000,000 less than Administrator Leon Henderson originally requested but $45,000,000 above the sum voted by the house.

The committee stipulated that none of the $120,000,000 was to be used for the payment of subsidies, an amendment insisted upon by Senator Russell (D-Ga.) who has been outspoken in his criticism of OPA for allowing an increase of 2½ cents a gallon in the price of gasoline in rationed eastern states.

OPA contended the increase was necessary to pay increased transportation costs resulting from hauling the fuel overland instead of by ocean tankers.

SPY SUSPECT TO BE GIVEN SWIFT TRIAL

Arrest of Buffalo-Educated Youth is Made Aboard Diplomatic Exchange Ship Drottningholm

COACHED IN ESPIONAGE

Newark, N. J., July 10 (AP)—Swift prosecution of a German-born spy suspect seized in an attempt to slip into the United States by posing as a Jewish refugee was expected today after he is arraigned on charges of espionage.

The prisoner, Herbert Karl Friedrich Bahra, 29, an American citizen through the naturalization of his late father, was seized by the FBI aboard the diplomatic exchange ship Drottiningholm.

The arrest of Bahr, who was educated in Buffalo, N. Y., schools and at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., resulted from a thorough investigation of the refugee liner, 300 of whose 92 passengers from Europe still are being questioned on Ellis Island.

In a simultaneous announcement of the arrest, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said in Washington that the gestapo had instructed Bahr in the art of spying as well as well as in writing with secret invisible inks and had given him various addresses in Spain, switzerland and South America where he was to send the reports of his activities.

Hoover said $7,000 in U. S. currency found on Bahr was to be used for his transportation, for obtaining military information and for "the loosening of tongues."

The FBI said Bahr was born in Klosperfelde, Germany, Aug. 27, 1913, and came to the United States with his family in 1926.

Hitler Recalls Former Army Field Marshal

London, July 10—(AP)—The Daily Mail published a report today that Adolf Hitler had called back his ousted army commander in chief, Field Marshal Walter Von Brauchitsch, yielding to the insistence of his high command.

There was no confirmation of this report, which came from the newspaper's Stockholm correspondent, who said it was brought by neutrals airplanes in the Swedish capital from Berlin.

Von Brauchitsch, who engineered most of the Nazis' conquests, was supplanted as commander by Hitler himself last Dec. 22.

The Daily Mail report said he was back again, directing the general staff work of the new German offensive in Russia.

Ever since the announcement last December that Hitler had assumed the military leadership of his armies, following the dictates of his "intuition," there have been recurring rumors of drastic shakeups in the Nazis' top military command.

The replacement of Von Brauchitsch, when the Germans were installed before Moscow and beginning to feel the terrible hardships of the Russian winter, has been the only major shift officially announced, however.

Seek Cause of Trolley Crash

Norristown, July 10—(AP)—Another passenger injured in the head-on collision of two interurban trolleys died today, bringing the total dead to 11, while authorities said the crash was caused by the failure of a motorman to obey running orders.

The latest victim was Jacob Hollenbach, 27, of Norristown, who died of chest and head injuries and a broken leg. Twenty-one others were injured when the crowded Philadelphia-to-Allentown passenger trolley collided Wednesday with a heavy freight car.

Assistant District Attorney Edward B. Duffy of Montgomery county and Edward M. Hawes, attorney for the Lehigh Valley Transit Company, announced they had found a dispatch order on the body of Henry H. Strunk, motorman of the passenger car, which they said indicated he was to have waited on a siding for a southbound trolley and the freight car to pass.

Strunk, 42, Allentown, who was fatally injured, waited for the passenger car but did not wait for the freight, they said.

Farm Group in Senate Wants Hobble on Henderson Powers

Financial Straightjacket Is Being Fashioned to Block Effort to Permit Increases

LIMITATION PROPOSAL

By JACK BELL

Washington, July 10.—(AP)—Members of a senate appropriations subcommittee were reported fashioning today a financial straitjacket which might keep Price Administrator Leon Henderson from locking sharp increases in the prices of such staple commodities as bread and canned vegetables.

Likely to be offered in the form of a limitation, the proposal would prohibit the use of any of this year's OPA operating funds to place ceilings on processed agricultural articles that did not reflect the 110 per cent of parity fixed by congress as the lowest point at which Henderson could step in and control prices.

Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) said an amendment of this nature was certain to be offered to the $1,808,000,000 supplemental appropriations bill now before the committee. He predicted majority support for it.

The committee has heard complaints this week from farm organizations that in his efforts to curb rising living costs Henderson has ruled that bread, for instance, does not fall within the field where congress prescribed the administrator's authority.

Henderson has made no attempt to control the price of wheat, since it remains below 110 per cent of parity, a figure calculated to give farmers a return equal to that of a past period, usually 1909-14.

But the farm representatives were said to have protested that ceilings placed on bread and other such processed commodities ignored a section of the price control act which states that prices fixed for processed articles must reflect the 110 per cent parity figure. The

Wants to Forget He's a Year Older

George W. Norris

Senate Dean Asks Unusual Birthday Gift

George W. Norris, at 81, Wants Hand in Imposing Dictated Peace

SPENDING BUSY DAY

BY JOHN H. WIGGINS

Washington, July 10 (AP)—There's just one present that Senator George W. Norris would like for his 81st birthday tomorrow—a hand in drafting a peace treaty that not only would take the Axis bull by the horns but "cut 'em right off."

Aside from that hoped-for gift which he believes he'll never get, the white-thatched Nebraska independent whose 39 years in congress represent the longest service of any member, would like to forget that another birthday has rolled around.

"I guess I'm a good deal like a young woman about my age," he confessed. "I'm getting well along in years now. There probably won't be so very many more."

So Norris planned to spend the day like many another conferring with colleagues, meeting visitors, dictating correspondence, and even discussing his idea of terms for "a peace that would last."

The battling insurgent of more than a quarter of a century ago when he held an angry senate in session for two days and two nights to help defeat President Wilson's request for authority to arm American merchant vessels against German raiders, doesn't want peace yet.

"Not until it's an unconditional surrender of the Axis," he said. "There must be no appeasement, no compromise. Then we must cut off their horns."

SEVEN-OCEAN NAVY MEASURE IS SIGNED

Washington, July 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt signed legislation today authorizing the construction of 1,900,000 tons of additional combat ships and 1,200,000 tons of auxiliary vessels for the navy.

The new combat ship tonnage, raising to 5,649,380 the authorized strength of the navy, is expected to be in service by the end of 1946.

"It will give us the largest navy in the world," commented Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the house naval affairs committee. "It provides not only for a two-ocean navy, but for a seven-ocean navy, one that will win the war and keep it won."

Pact Planned With Exiled Greek Chiefs

Washington, July 10—(AP)—Secretary of State Hull and Prime Minister Emanuel J. Tsouderos of the Greek government in exile signed a master lend-lease pact today following the reaching of a "complete agreement on war objectives by President Roosevelt and King George II yesterday.

Six other United Nations—Great Britain, China, Russia, Belgium, Poland and The Netherlands—already have concluded similar agreements with the United States pledging mutual aid toward a common victory and post-war collaboration in promoting mutually advantageous economic relations.

Others of the 27 remaining United Nations are expected to accept invitations to join the pacts.

Advance notice of Greece's intentions was given in a joint statement last night by President Roosevelt and the Grecian monarch, who called at the White House with his prime minister, Emmanuel Tsouderos, to say farewell preparatory to returning to London. They have been visiting in this country for several weeks.

"We are in complete agreement," said the joint statement, "on the simple objective of prosecuting the war to a successful conclusion, at the earliest possible moment, with all the resources at the command of the two nations."

MORE NEWS ON SABOTEUR CASE DAILY

Office of War Information Seeks to Expand Information Available to the Public

ISSUE TWO BULLETINS

BY JAMES J. STREBIG

Washington, July 10—(AP)—Having opened a crack in the curtain of secrecy surrounding the military trial of eight Nazis accused of coming to America by submarine to sabotage industry, Office of War Information officials sought today to expand the information available to the public by releasing two bulletins daily.

The first break in the barrier aaginst publicity which was raised in the interests of national security came late yesterday with the issuance of two brief statements by Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, president of the seven-general trial commission.

The information was limited to a disclosure that the proceeding began on Wednesday with disposal of some "preliminary procedural motions;" that seven witnesses testified during the first two days, and that all participants were sworn to secrecy.

It took a determined effort by Elmer Davis, recently-appointed OWI director, and a conference among President Roosevelt, Secretary of War Stimson and Davis to wrench that much loose.

The military kept a firm grip on the information to be released by providing that it could come only from General McCoy.

There were indications that the case being unfolded by the prosecution might have reached the stage of telling the story of the chase and capture of the German-born prisoners, who were trained in sabotage at Berlin. This could only be conjectured, however.

An official who may have been familiar with prosecution plans prior to the trial, but who decined to permit use of his name, intimated that no more than a score of witnesses would be called, and that, at the present rate, the government might complete its case by Saturday night.

Meanwhile, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover gave a strong implication that the persons who aided the men after they arrived in this

Nimitz Has a Close Call In Plane Crash

Washington, July 10—(AP)—The navy reported today that Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, recently "escaped serious injury" in an airplane crash on the west coast which cost the life of the plane's co-pilot.

Nimitz, normally in the Hawaiian area, was on the mainland for a meeting with Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the U. S. fleet, and to receive from King the Distinguished Service Medal for his conduct of naval operations against the Japanese, particularly the Coral Sea and Midway actions.

The plane crash in which his life apparently was gravely endangered occurred, the navy said, "at an airfield at a west coast port of the United States."

The co-pilot killed was Lieutenant Thomas Morton Roscoe, 29, of Oakland, Calif.

The navy said that several passengers were "slightly injured" and described Nimitz's injuries as minor and insufficient to cause any interruption of his journey.

Nimitz, 57, has been commander in chief of the Pacific fleet since the relief from that assignment of Admiral Husband E. Kimmel.

Washington, July 10—(AP)—Today's the day you are supposed to pay for most merchandise bought on retail charge accounts before June 1. Unless you pay up, or sign a written agreement to make regular payments later, your account may be frozen.

It is the first deadline under the May 6 order of the Federal Reserve Board on charge accounts, which must be met by "the tenth day of the second month after the purchase." Thus the deadline for goods bought last month is August 10, and the deadline for articles purchased this month will be Sept. 10.

The ruling does not apply to things bought on the installment plan, for which the board has a set of separate regulations. Neither does it apply to grocery stores, laundries, or doctor bills.

"SABOTEUR" AT THE LIBRARY THEARTE FRI. AND SAT.

Heralded as the great Alfred Hitchcock's most brilliant directorial achievement to date, "Saboteur," which co-stars Priscilla Lane and Robert Cummings, comes Fri. and Sat. to the Library theatre. Based on Hitchcock's own original story idea, the Universal film is motivated by the desperate efforts of fifth columnists to check Uncle Sam's drive for Victory.

Highlighting "Saboteur" is a cross-country chase in which Cum- California, aircraft factory worker falsely accused of sabotage, sets out to track down the real saboteur in order to clear his own name—a man-hunt that is brought to a climax in New York Harbor. The plot is fast moving, covering, as it does, a time elapse of only five days as its characters are sped across 13 states.

According to an announcement made today, the Minute Man flag, awarded to firms in which at least 90 percent of the employes are purchasing U. S. War Bonds regularly through the payroll allotment plan, has been awarded to the Metzger-Wright Company store here.

In a recent communication from the War Savings Staff of the Treasury Department, every member of the Metzger-Wright Company store staff was congratulated for splendid cooperation in the payroll savings plan. Although the goal of the Treasury Department is 100 percent participation, the Metzger-Wright Company was complimented upon achieving a percentage of 91.

The War Savings Staff said, "This splendid showing should prove an inspiring example to other companies with whom you have contact."

Now working under the coveted Minute Man flag, the employes at the Metzger-Wright Company are even more zestful in their efforts to make the "Retailers for Victory" month an outstanding success, it was stated today. They are more determined than ever to not only reach their store's quota but to double and triple it if possible. Everything possible is being done to live up to the retailers' motto applicable to the sale of War Savings Bonds and Stamps, "We Can—We Will—We Must."

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Essential in the equipment of every Soldier, Sailor, Marine or Flyer is a first aid kit, consisting of bandages and antiseptics for instantaneous use. These materials are packed into a compact box and cost about $1.50 each.

We need millions of these first aid kits for emergency treatment. They are also used by Red Cross workers, in field hospitals and wherever needed until hospital treatment may be obtained. Even a child could buy one or more of these kits through purchase of War Stamps. Buy War Bonds and Stamps every pay day and invest at least ten percent of your income in these government securities. U. S. Treasury Department

"American Heroes Day" Plans Here Reported Progressing

Plans are going forward for a huge public demonstration on the evening of Friday, July 17, which has been designated as "American Heroes Day," it was announced today by the local retail merchants' committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the event.

While arrangements have not been completed, it is proposed to have a band concert about town and other special features.

According to present plans, every store, post office and bank will be open for a period during the evening for the sale of U. S. War Bonds.

It was stated today that the bond sale which is being conducted here this month in the "Retailers for Victory" drive is going forward very well and several local stores are going well ahead of their quotas.

A tabulation of the total sales to date is being made and it is expected that the results will be announced within the next few days.

It was pointed out that the general public is cooperating very well in the purchase of U. S. Bonds and Stamps and that the entire program promises to be a big success.

The campaign among salespeople in local stores, being conducted throughout the month of July, is progressing in a fine manner, it was reported. In this contest, prizes of $50, $25, $10 and $5 in U. S. bonds and stamps are being offered to the men and duplicate prizes for the women selling most bonds and stamps during the month.

PROBE MAN'S DEATH

Pittsburgh, July 10—(AP)—County Detective Michael Jordan reported that Charles Groff, 32, of Fort Hill (Somerset county) was involved in a fight Monday night shortly before he was found dying on a Braddock street.

A man whom eyewitnesses identified as Groff's opponent was questioned and released pending a coroner's inquest, Jordan said. Groff's death was attributed to a brain hemorrhage.

Groff and his family had been visiting relatives at Braddock.

Compost Heap Will Supply Humus for Victory Gardens

Victory Gardeners should plan this year to improve their soil for next year by adding humus.

Humus is important because it adds greatly to the water-holding capacity of sandy soils and makes clay soils more workable. About the average home there is sufficient plant material such as leaves and grass clippings to make a compost pile which would supply all of the humus that can be used advantageously about the home.

Place the compost pile in a secluded corner. Shrubs may be used to shield it from view. The plant material to be decomposed should be put down in layers, with thin layers of soil between. A few handfuls of lime and complete plantfood should be sprinkled in the plant material as it is put on the piles. A small quantity of decayed material or manure scattered through the pile will hasten decay. The compost pile should not be allowed to dry out.

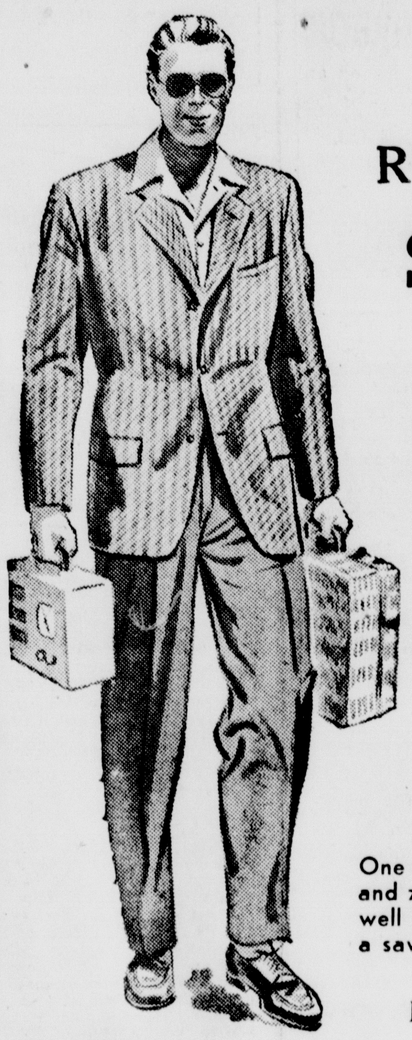

Allow the composted material to decompose quite thoroughly before using it. Such material can best be used in the flower and vegetable garden.

The use of compost or manure on the lawn is not recommended. Surface applications on grass are of no value and often bring in weeds and disease organisms. Manure is particularly objectionable, especially from the standpoint of introducing spores of two serious human diseases—tetanus (lockjaw) and gas gangrene.

The use of complete plantfood increases the humus content of the soil, since it encourages the growth of both the top and the root system of plants. A certain percentage of the root system decays each year. This decomposed vegetable matter becomes a part of the soil. Experiments have shown that a considerable percentage of humus is added to the soil in this way. In fact, this is about the only way to incorporate humus in the soil to any extent after the lawn is once established.

Decay of compost will be hastened if a tumbler full of balanced plant food is scattered over each layer of compost a foot thick, and if the pile is kept moist by occasional wetting down.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Camp and children, Charles Jr., and Francis attended the Schell family reunion held Saturday July 4th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schell at Pleasantville. About forty relatives were present. The Camp family were accompanied home by Mrs. Camp's mother and sister, Mrs. Clara Shell and Miss Madeline Schell of Corry.

Mrs. Rea Holmes and son Emmett of Torpedo were visitors at Erie over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Benedict and children of Ross Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Bernal Holmes and daughter Patty and Ralph and Harry Pike of Torpedo; and the Misses Edna and Helen Eastman of this place, celebrated the 4th of July at Celoron Saturday. They enjoyed a picnic dinner while there.

A farmer reports seeing a bear here early one morning while going after his cows.

Several from this place attended the Young People's meeting held in the Torpedo church Sunday evening.

Word has come here of the accident that befell Mrs. H. W. Merry of Corry when she fell Monday at her home near Corry and fractured her left arm near her shoulder. Her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Preble of Friendship, N. Y., is caring for her. She is getting along as well as can be expected for one of her age, being almost 78 years old. Mrs. Merry was formerly Miss Cora Cole of this place and a sister of Mrs. G. N. Wentworth.

MORE ABOUT RUBBER

President Roosevelt is to be commended for bringing the rubber situation clearly into the open, by his warning that civilian tires may have to be requisitioned.

With the authority of his position he voiced what experts have been saying for months.

Faced with the distinct possibility of a shortage so critical that even the barest of military and essential civilian needs may not be met next year and in 1944, why should civilians be permitted to wear out existing tires in non-essential use?

Nation-wide rationing of gasoline has been advocated to save rubber. If nothing more courageous can be done, that would help.

But those who live in the oil-rich midwest and southwest, and on the Pacific coast, do not like such half measures.

If they are going to be permitted to wear out the tires they now have they see no reason they should not do it in their own way.

If, on the other hand, Uncle Sam needs their tires to help win the war, they inquire why he doesn't come clean and ask for them. Many from the oil states have told us they would willingly give their tires, if that is needed, but that they'll squawk to high heaven if they are permitted to keep the tires, but are denied gasoline for their cars.

We believe the farm belt, worried about its surplus wheat and corn, would prove equally patriotic if Washington officially would explain clearly why it is more efficient militarily to make most of our synthetic rubber from petroleum rather than from grain alcohol.

The synthetic rubber bottleneck is in butadiene, one of the two major constituents of buna type rubber.

Butadiene is a byproduct of gasoline refining. It can be made at the existing refineries. We don't have to wait for a major construction program, or find money for it, or divert steel and copper for it, or tie up transportation facilities.

Up to the limit of the existing distillery capacity, we can rush into butadiene production from gain alcohol. This the government is planning.

Beyond that we have to decide whether speed in getting rubber for critical uses, in obtaining steel and copper for armament and munitions, are more important than using the farmers' grain.

Uncle Sam thinks that, with Hitler making an all-out play to win the war, speed is vital. If he explained why, officially, as his experts want newspapermen to explain unofficially, we have no doubt that both motorists and farmers would say:

"Sure. Let's win the war and worry about our troubles later."

RIVER TRAFFIC

(From The Valley Daily News, Tarentum)

More than usual interest attaches to this year's session of the Allegheny River Improvement Association which will be held July 25th in Franklin instead of Tarentum as originally scheduled.

As a direct result of the war, river transportation is again coming into its own and this year's program will attract widespread attention.

Over the country's network of 6,000 miles of rivers boats are moving more freight than ever before. In this great freight movement the Ohio and its tributaries, the Allegheny and Monongahela, are playing a very significant part, moving tremendous quantities of raw materials such as coal, petroleum and limestone.

Because of the vast increase in river traffic in petroleum, warehouse facilities along the river in our immediate district are being sought. In 1941, almost 6 million tons of petroleum products moved over the Ohio alone, or almost ten times the quantity in 1929.

The cheapness of river transportation over the railroads, as well as the factor of safety, have been chief reasons for the greatly increased traffic over the inland waterways.

Every citizen in the community interested in the future development of the Allegheny, should not fail to hear the program July 25th in Franklin. The program will be highlighted by the presence of Donald T. Wright, of St. Louis, publisher of the Waterways Journal and Col. Herbert D. Vogel, Pittsburgh district army engineer.

Possible Alternative

• WASHINGTON IN WARTIME •

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The subject of the most muddled conversations in Washington today is "Congress."

Locally, there has been a strong reaction against the violent attacks on our legislative branch of government. It has been conceded that Congress is vital to representative government; that much of the sniping against it has been unjustified; that Congress has, on the whole, cooperated magnificently with the Administration in furtherance of the war effort; and that making Congress and certain congressmen the "goats" for everything that has gone or goes wrong is one of the unkindest cuts of all.

Still, Congress is on the fence.

• • •

IT takes the hide off the CCC without ruffling the fur of the recently much more unpopular NYA. Some of its investigating groups blow the War Production Board out of the water, but a powerful faction rises in wrath at an alleged threat that the Army is planning to take over WPB.

After approving anti-inflation legislation all the way down the line, it suddenly balks at okaying Leon Henderson's demand for funds, or even granting all that the Budget Bureau put the blue pencil on.

It gives the green light immediately to 50 billion dollars or so of Army and Navy appropriations, but develops its own legislative log jam over some nine other departmental and agency appropriation measures.

After months of wrangling in committee hearings, it brings to the floor a tax bill more than two billion short of Treasury recommendations, but passes along a hint through a few important spokesmen that more will come later.

While Washington housing became daily more acute, the two chambers deadlocked for a month over a $32,500,000 defense housing bill. The stymie was whether to build 1,000 family housing units or appropriate all the funds for dormitories.

These are a few random examples. There are more.

• • •

A PERSON doesn't have to ignore these facts to agree wholly with Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming. He put it this way:

"Of course, it (Congress) has not been perfect. It is not made up of supermen. It has its weaknesses and its failings, but I do NOT hesitate to say that NO Congress in history has worked more diligently and more continuously than this."

And later, he added: "These members of Congress are your people. They are chosen by you and they speak for you. If they are less able or industrious than they ought to be, change them. . . . But don't let anybody undermine your faith in Congress as an institution, for only the Congress of the United States stands between tthe people and an all-powerful central government."

• MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN •

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—We got into a car and drove out through the high noon sun into the country and turned after awhile toward the sea until we came to a supply depot that stretched for four or five miles along an emergency line of track. Flanking the rails were heavy platforms, and on the platforms, as far as you could see, was the accumulated baggage of war—ready to be piled into the holds and on the decks of ships.

• • •

IT WAS not possible to count the great packing cases, most as large as piano boxes, others large enough to house a tank. They were there by the tens of hundreds. They had been switched in and deposited there in anticipation of a zero hour. They lay on the platforms with the high grass growing all around them and the sun beating down on them, and as far, too, as you could see were soldiers pacing through the heat of the day, guarding this all-important equipment.

These cases aren't there any more. A few days after I was out there I passed again, and the platforms were empty. The wild grass grew around the empty platforms. The rusty rails were bare of cars. That morning, earlier, we crossed the Hudson and were compelled to wait in midstream for a great ship that appeared dirty and patched in her camouflage to pass on her way to the outer harbor. I counted 47 life rafts swinging from her sides, and on her aft deck the rafts were stacked like wheat cakes. She was loaded for bear. The gun crews were at their stations. She swarmed with men. I don't know where she was going but I can tell you now that, wherever it was, she got there.

• • •

HERE'S a bit of anonymous nostalgia that came out of the postman's mail bag this morning. . . . From New Orleans. Unsigned:

"Dear Mr. Tucker: Tonight I was riding in a street car. . . . Sixteen young men with mandolins and violins got on. . . . They were happy. . . . They were going home to England. We traveled together about twelve miles, and did they make those instruments talk! . . . The young man who sat in the seat with me was from Manchester. . . . His Lancashire dialect made me sit up and take notice, as I had lived in England for eight years. I was a race rider long before those boys were born, and possibly before their parents were. . . . It's 40 years since I came home. . . . I had two fingers broken. . . . My friends here gave me many good things, but I was too heavy for this side of the pond. I went broke, and gave up the racing game. But that dialect woke up long sleeping memories of pleasant days spent in England, with those long since passed on, and to hear one who was not born then, speaking a dialect long since forgotten, makes me feel sure there will always be an England. He had finished his training and he was going home to fight for his country. He was possibly 20 years old, and in civil life he had been a bank clerk. He and his friends all have my best wishes when they take the air, and my only regret is that I am too old to join them.

"Just an old man, long since forgotten."

'Minute Man' Flag Awarded To Metzger's

According to an announcement made today, the Minute Man flag, awarded to firms in which at least 90 percent of the employes are purchasing U. S. War Bonds regularly through the payroll allotment plan, has been awarded to the Metzger-Wrgiht Company store here.

In a recent communication from the War Savings Staff of the Treasury Department, every member of the Metzger-Wright Company store staff was congratulated for splendid cooperation in the payroll savings plan. Although the goal of the Treasury Department is 100 percent participation, the Metzger-Wright Company was complimented upon achieving a percentage of 91.

The War Savings Staff said, "This splendid showing should prove an inspiring example to other companies with whom you have contact."

Now working under the coveted Minute Man flag, the employes at the Metzger-Wright Company are even more zestful in their efforts to make the "Retailers for Victory" month an outstanding success, it was stated today. They are more determined than ever to not only reach their store's quota but to double and triple it if possible. Everything possible is being done to live up to the retailers' motto applicable to the sale of War Savings Bonds and Stamps, "We Can—We Will—We Must."

Huckleberry Crop Unusual This Season

Harrisburg, July 10—Reports received by the Department of Forests and Waters are to the effect that the huckleberry crop this summer is unusually large. The favorable spring season with abundant rainfall has been responsible for this heavy crop.

Huckleberry picking is the chief source of revenue during the summer of many families throughout Pennsylvania. This is particularly true of the anthracite and bituminous coal regions, where families frequently camp on the areas so as to take advantage of every opportunity to pick the berries.

Pennsylvania has seven varieties fo huckleberries which are used commercially. The black huckelberry is the most important and has the widest distribution. It grows on rocky hillsides and on soil which is not suited for other plants and attains a height of three feet. The fruit is light blue to glossy black in color and is firm and sweet. Three of the seven varieties are blueberries which, though masters of the huckleberry family, belong to a separate botanical genius. Other forms of the huckleberry plant grow from ten to fifteen feet in height and are usually found in swampy areas.

POLICE WARNING

Officers of the local substation of the Pennsylvania Motor Police issued a warning today that strict measures are to be taken against persons who may be caught shooting insulators from high tension lines through the Clarendon, Sheffield and Brookston sections. It is stated that these lines carry 132,000 voltage and the shot might prove fatal to the wielder of the weapon, that replacements are expensive and that such shooting is apt to disrupt electrical service that is essential to our national defense.

A Red army bulletin acknowledging that the Germans had reached the vicinity of Rossosh indicated that Gen. Fedor von Bock's armies had scored a 90-mile advance eastward from Kupvansk and presumably cut the vital rail line between Russia's central and southern armies.

Many Activities In Business Session Of Veterans' Auxiliary

Considerable business of importance was transacted at last night's meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, meeting in the post rooms.

The unit voted to send $25 to national headquarters for a special fund being raised to purchase 15 training planes for U. S. Army Air Corps. A class of candidates was initiated and the women made plans for a picnic with post members, the time and place to be announced later.

Plans were discussed for representation at the Northwestern Counties Council meeting to be held at Franklin on Thursday of next week. Gertrude Fitch is the regularly elected delegate to these sessions. Others planning to attend are asked to call Bertha W. Lyons, 1253.

A number of members volunteered for service for Red Cross surgical dressings work in order that the Warren County Chapter may meet its new and greatly increased quota.

Mrs. L. J. Schuler was elected guard to succeed Mary Nelson and was installed by Mrs. Lyons, past department president.

The following delegates were elected for the national encampment to be held in Cincinnati, O., in August: Mary Belton, past council president; Katherine Allen, senior vice president; Olga Peterson, president; Gertrude Fitch, past president.

The women accepted an invitation to sell stamps and bonds at local theatres next week.

To conclude the evening, refreshments were served by the committee.

Business Establishments To Receive Stickers From OCD

Business and industrial establishments in Warren county, in common with those throughout Pennsylvania, which conform with the measures listed today by the State Council of Defense as precaution against air raids will be given window stickers certifying "Air Raid Precautions Have Been Taken Here."

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg today, the state council said the emblems have been distributed to local officials for issuance by air raid wardens to all stores and plants which meet the requirements outlined by the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense.

Samples of these stickers have been received by County Defense Chairman Allen M. Gibson and it is expected that a full supply will be received in the near future.

Explaining the eight points were not arbitrary but were intend to guide wardens making inspection tours, the council listed the requirements as:

1. Appointment of a defense coordinator or centralized defense command. (In a small shop the appointment of a shop warden would suffice, but a full-scale organization might be larger in a large plant.)
2. Organization, training and testing of employes for civilian defense protective services. (All employes should be advised of what to do in air raids and one satisfactory drill should be made.)
3. Installation of necessary equipment. (First aid and fire equipment should be readily at hand.)
4. Provision of adequate means by which warnings will be received and transmitted through the premises.
5. Tested provisions for immediate blackout of all lights visible outside the building.
6. Recommend measures for protecting personnel and equipment from blasts or concussions. (An air-tight room for employes in case of gas attack is advisable in some establishments but impractical in others.)
7. Maintenance of liaison with local defense officials to assure cooperation.
8. Compliance in general with the recommendations outlined in OCD instructional pamphlets.

Wallace Brothers Circus Arrives in Warren For Two Performances Today

Despite threatening weather, large crowds were anticipated for the two performances of the Wallace Brothers Circus, which arrived here early this morning and erected its tents on the brewery grounds on the South Side.

There was a large turnout for the afternoon performance, which started at two o'clock and another big crowd is expected for the second and final performance, which is scheduled for eight o'clock tonight. The doors will be open one hour before the performance to give everyone an opportunity to see the circus menagerie and horse fair.

The big show arrived in Warren during the wee small hours of the morning from Olean, N. Y., where it played to large crowds yesterday. According to reports, the circut has been received by huge crowds throughout the eastern part of the country, in many places finding it necessary to give three performances a day.

After tonight's performance the circus will go to Corry, where it is scheduled to appear tomorrow.

One of the big features of the circus is the large herd of elephants, many of which are pictured above. These elephants have been trained as outstanding performers and under the direction of Capt. Bill McDonald, present one of the circus' highlights.

Many other outstanding acts appear this year with the Wallace Bros. Circus and combine to provide the usual well-rounded show that is pleasing to children and adults alike.

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE

by George Harmon Coxe

Chapter 18

Two New Allies

JOYCE MURDOCK heard the story through, allowing Delia to tell it in her own way without interruption. Upon opening the door and seeing the white, tortured look on the girl's face she had known something was wrong; now, she sat down and put an arm about Delia's shoulder.

"Of all the rotten luck," she said. "But I think you were marvelous for not telling him you had the envelope."

"Oh, I couldn't, Joyce. Not then. I was so afraid and—what can we do?"

"We'll think of something."

"I've got to give him the envelope. It isn't me, but if the police should find out Ward actually was there—"

"Delia," Joyce said, interrupting, "Don't you think maybe we should tell Kent and see what he says?"

Delia considered this, brushing her hair back from her forehead. "No," she said. "I'd still rather not."

"Kent would never let you down."

Even as she spoke Joyce realized that Delia's mind was made up and that to argue now would do no good. She sighed and leaned back.

"All right, dear," she said, and then an idea crept into the cloudy recesses of her mind. "If you'd rather not tell Kent, all right. But we need help, and I think I know someone."

"Who?"

"His name is Fenner. He's a private detective."

"Oh, no." Delia's eyes got round and startled. "Not a detective."

"Yes, a detective," Joyce said. "He's worked with Kent before. I know him well enough to go to him and I know he can be trusted implicitly. We needn't tell him everything, and you needn't worry about his going to the police."

She got up. "I'm going to phone him. You needn't actually agree until you've seen him and talked with him."

Fresh Ideas

SHE picked up the telephone, remembered she did not know the number and replaced it. She reached for the directory, found what she wanted; then as she was about to make the call, she thought of something else and sat quite still, a narrowness coming about her eyes.

"What is it?" Delia asked. "What's the matter?"

"I just thought of something." Joyce went to the desk, found the envelope and opened it. "We should have a copy of these things," she said.

"But why?"

"I don't know. But we should. How do we know what's going to happen later or how important the envelope may become? Why not have these things photographed? Then, if we lose them—well, who knows? Kent would do it—why shouldn't we?"

Delia leaned forward, interested now, but skeptical.

"Can you do it?"

"No, but I'll get someone who can. Someone from the paper."

"From the paper?" Delia said. "But that will be just one more person to know—"

"It will be no such thing," Joyce said. "And will you please stop worrying? I realize the risk as well as you do."

"Yes, but—"

"The one I have in mind won't be able to read French. I'm sure; nor Spanish either. He'll have no idea what those papers say, and even if he did you'd never have to worry. Really, Delia, there are some people you can trust."

She was telephoning before Delia could add anything more, and for the next minute or two she talked rapidly and earnestly, explaining what she wanted.

"He can't come for about an hour," she said when she hung up. "Somebody is out to dinner and he has to stay in the office. Then he'll come right over. . . . And that reminds me. We're going to need dinner ourselves."

"Oh, I couldn't eat a thing," Delia said.

"Nuts," said Joyce inelegantly.

Persuading Eddy

EDDY LACEY was blond, blue-eyed and freckled. He was not more than twenty-one or two, and when he had been told what Joyce wanted him to do he looked decidedly uncomfortable.

"I don't know," he said. "What's the boss going to say?"

"Kent?" Joyce said. "He's not going to find out, is he, Eddy?"

"You'd be surprised the things he finds out."

"This is between us, though."

"Yeah, but I work for him."

"And I know how loyal you are," Joyce said. "But this is something personal. Kent isn't going to know anything about it and if he should find out I'll tell him I forced you to do it, and you hadn't any choice."

Lacey grinned. "And that's no lie."

Joyce handed him the two clippings and the copies of the marriage and divorce certificates. "Did you bring the right sort of attachment so we'll be able to read these after you photograph them?"

Lacey said he had. "But that photostat won't come up too clear," he added. "The prints will have to be blown up quite a bit."

"That's all right. When you've made your exposures you can develop and enlarge them right here in Kent's darkroom."

"Oh—oh," said Lacey.

"Now what?"

"Guys don't like other guys fooling around with their darkrooms." Trouble sobered him until, catching sight of the look on Joyce's face, he shrugged and grinned. "Okay, I might as well give it the works."

For the next half hour Joyce and Delia stood by while Eddy Lacey unpacked his plate-case, set up his camera and lights and thumb-tacked the first clipping to a bread-board Joyce had purloined from the kitchen. Except for an occasional muttering sound, Lacey worked silently, and as soon as he had finished with his camera, he took his plates to the darkroom down the hall.

Joyce telephoned Jack Fenner while Lacey was in the darkroom and after a brief and guarded explanation secured his consent to listen to the rest of her story.

"He'll be busy until nine-thirty," Joyce told Delia, "and I said we could meet him at the Copley."

"If only we didn't have to tell him," Delia said. "If only—"

"I know. But it's not going to be as bad as you think, darling. And you'll like Jack. He's amusing in a hard-boiled sort of way, and quite honest."

Soon Eddy had four, eleven by fourteen, glossy white prints going through the washer and when Joyce saw them she knew they would do.

"I used the biggest paper I could find," Lacey said. "I don't know if they're good enough."

"Oh, they are, Eddy. And you're a darling."

"I could easily be a chump, too," said Lacey.

Joyce brought out an oversized blotting book from a cabinet and put it on the table.

"They ought to be ferrotyped," Lacey said.

"I know," Joyce said. "But this will do. It will get them out of the way and"—she saw that the negatives were dry—"I'll take care of the negatives."

National Forge Staggers Hospital With 15-2 Decision

Nick Creola Hits For Circuit in 2nd While Hines Holds Hospital

The Natinoal Forge baseballers turned loose a savage barrage of hits last night at Russell Field to slaughter a trying, but badly outclassed State Hospital nine, 15-2, in the Sunset League.

Two Hospital slabsters were chased inside of six innings of play, and the game was shortened to a seven-inning encounter under the semi-pro ruling of a seven-run margin at that point, wasting a lot of daylight but bringing to an end one of the most merciless beatings ever accepted this season by a Sunset League entry.

It was a "right" night for the Irvine clouters, and they hit four line smashes out into the fields while accepting two free tickets to first base to send Ed DeRosia, the Hospital starter, to the showers with only one out in the second inning.

Jim Rose took over with the bases loaded and proceeded to calm the Forge bats momentarily, but before he had served a period of three and two-thirds innings, the Morrisonmen had raked him for 13 hits and ten runs, turning the game into a complete rout and leaving the State Hospital clubbers so far behind the few hits they managed to get were futile.

Among those 13 safeties off Rose was a well-hit home run just inside the right field foul line, hit out of the park in the fifth by Nick Creola with two aboard and two out. It was his first circuit smash of the year in the league.

Bob Schussler finally came to Rose's rescue with two men on and no one out, and the score already 13-2 against him in the top half of the sixth. The two runners who had hit Rose managed to score but Schussel brought a silence to the heavy gunning as he limited the Forgers to two hits in his two-inning stay on the mound, and didn't give up a run.

Chuck Clawson scored the first Hospital run, singling into left field, moving to second on a wild pitch, stealing third while Hines froze in the box with the ball in his hand, and came home on a second wild pitch.

Monk Murphy chased Centerfielder Burns in the third with a two base hit after Clawson tallied in the second, went to third on an infield out at first base, and scored when Warnie Check rifled a single through the box into centerfield. After that, Ol' Diz kept things well under control, spacing nine hits over the seven innings in commendable fashion.

Tonight Stoneham tackles the Forge at 6:15 o'clock on Russell Field, and a couple of headliners are on deck for next week's Sunset League program, the schedule to be found elsewhere on this page.

FORGE HOPES TO WIN 12TH GAME SUNDAY

Unless Stoneham comes forth with nothing short of a miracle on Russell Field this evening, the National Forge should be looking for its 12th victory Sunday when it entertains the Westinghouse Club of Sharon on Wilder Field, Irvine.

Last night's quick disposal of a threatening State Hospital nine in the Sunset Baseball League extended their streak of triumphs over the season to 10 consecutive games without defeat.

Stoneham looms as a team with little hope of endangering this string of victories this evening, but then, more mysterious happenings have been known to take place in the history of the sport of baseball.

But, if all goes according to the form sheet, the Forgers will take the field Sunday for another four o'clock show at Irvine in quest of that decision which will bring to a dozen their string thus far.

Sharon, on the other hand, has a commendable record though they have been beaten a couple of times.

Sharon, on the other hand, has a commendable record though they have been beaten a couple of times. The Westinghouse nine has played in fast company all season long, and shape up as an even match for the Forgers.

The admission price for men has been reduced from fifty to forty cents, tax included, and the ladies' price remains at thirty cents for Sunday's game.

No announcement was made today in regards to the starting pitcher, but Bill Caffery possibly will draw this assignment for the Irvine clouters.

FAR AWAY

Until 12 years ago, Neptune appeared to be the farthest of all the known planets from the sun. The planet Pluto, discovered in 1930, is 900,000,000 miles beyond Neptune.

BANK SHOTS

BY FLOYD PASSINGER, Sports Editor

Sharon Westinghouse and the Forge are preparing to provide fans with a tip-top baseball game Sunday at Irvine, and this agent can see no reason for ball fans to stay away from Wilder Field unless the sun doesn't shine. Since the Forge began offering some pretty fair country diamond parties down there a few years back, the baseball public has stayed away from the Irvine park like they might avoid a friend with the measles, and in so doing they've given up countless opportunities to see some of the finest baseball they could ever hope for. Now, we aren't getting paid to beat the drums for the NFO ball club, but this writer does feel that they're deserving of better support. If Sharon plays the ball of which the team is capable, Sunday's third home contest for the Forge should be well worth the reduced admission price, so we're appealing to the diamond leather-lungs to come on out and have a look at these Sunday afternoon sessions—we don't believe you'll be disappointed.

That little melee that took place Wednesday night between umpire and player in the Sunset League game between Stoneham and Eagles may not have been baseball etiquette, but it did show that there are still a few youngsters coming along who have the fighting spirit known to players and fans in the earlier days of the national pastime's existence. Too many rookies of today won't even slide into a base for fear they'll dirty the uniform they're wearing. However, we're not encouraging more action of this kind in the Sunset League and just to make this note more emphatic, the league committee has ruled that any such trouble in the future will result in the suspension of player or official, if either or both are found to be guilty of instigating a scrap of this kind. In fairness to the umpires of the league, all of whom have been doing their best, we'll say they call them as they see them and players must realize that occasional mistakes are unavoidable. On the other hand, it's much easier and much less antagonizing for the umps to give a player the "thumb", eliminating him from a game in official manner, than to show him with a couple of left hooks that he isn't calling those decisions.

What's the matter, boys? At frequent intervals a country club member will stop us on the street to mention in conversation that the competitive spirit between the golfers is fading out of the picture at the Conewango Valley, and to this, we have no reply. The first time a country clubber told us this, we wouldn't believe it. Since then, however, it has arisen several times and so there must be a certain percentage of truth behind it. To play the game of golf professionally may not be the best career in the world, but to have competition in a friendly round seems only natural. There's a group at the club that has been trying everything to add new interest and life to golfing, but it seems, according to the reports, that even the dime-a-hole golfers are nearly extinct. They say they're out there for exercise only these days. Playing around and hardly keeping an official score card is like driving 50 miles just to use the rationed rubber on your car without any destination. So come on, fellows, let's make golfing at the club a sport again, instead of just a way to keep the waistline down.

Publinx and Club Golfers Clash Sunday

Ten of the county's best independent golfers have been lined up to officially challenge the Conewango Valley's best in a team match Sunday, which is scheduled for 18 holes with the starting time set for 10 o'clock.

The match was proposed recently following the Warren County Open at the Maplehurst Golf Club when several of the top-finishers in the tourney made public their desire to meet a Conewango Valley team.

Those who will play on the publinx team on Sunday include: "Chink" Collins, Vito and Joe Brindis, John Hawk, Howard Johnson, George Johnson, Bob Johnson, Bob Walsh, Clyde Christie and Stan Korb.

The country club team includes: Tim Creal, Harry Bittenbender, Chuck Young, Hank Fischer, H. D. Hubbs, Marshall Parshall, Art Johnson, Neil MacDonald, Bill Rice, Al Michell and John Trevenen.

The two teams will be led in the match by Walsh and Creal, respectively.

WARD HAVING TROUBLES IN LINKS EVENT

Spokane, Wash., July 10—(AP)—Marvin "Bud" Ward, who could be a general instead of an army corporal if military ability was measured in terms of golf, is in a playing slump and as third round matches of the Western Amateur Championship got under way today he wasn't exactly a good bet to retain his title.

Between now and Sunday's 36-hole finals some of the country's topnotchers who are on their games will cross the path of the National Amateur and defending Western titlist.

Off Ward's second round showing yesterday he wouldn't stand a chance against some of the better linksmen he has been in the habit of beating fairly easily in the past.

Ward, medalist with 141 for 36 holes, won both his matches yesterday but his dizzy scrambling was alternately the despair and joy of the gallery. He managed to wriggle out of most of the predicaments, thanks in part to opponents who failed to take advantage of opportunities and, in turn, three-putted or missed easy ones on the greens.

He defeated his first round rival, Otto Rosand of Spokane, 7 and 6 and followed with a 3 and 2 win over Fritz Metzger of Tacoma, Wash.

Ward's third round opponent this morning was A. F. Appleton of Seattle, a steady but not great golfer.

With long rests behind all of them, pennant drives in front of some of them and artificial light around most of them, major league pitchers enjoyed one of their best days of the season yesterday.

As the teams returned to action after the three-day intermission for all-star games, both leagues produced some sparkling mound performances, including a four-hitter in 11 innings, four five-hitters and a trio of six-hit jobs, two of which still weren't good enough to win.

Five of the winners had the help of the arc lights last night, but the masterpiece of the day was the 11-inning stunt of Charlie Wagner, who held the Detroit Tigers to four blows in pitching the Boston ReRd Sox to a 2-1 decision in broad daylight.

The Red Sox needed the victory to stay within four lengths of the American League leading New York Yankees, who dropped the St. Louis Browns, 5-2. Hank Borowy kept his place at the top of the circuit's pitching ranks by holding the Browns to six safeties but had to have help in the eighth inning when a blister appeared on his pitching hand.

It was the seventh triumph against one defeat for Borow who was aided by the long-distance clouting of Joe DiMaggio, Tommy Henrich and Charlie Keller against three Brownie hurlers.

Need a New Car? then-better get it!

Think things THROUGH on buying a new car!
If you are Eligible under Newly Liberalized Rules it's Smart to BUY NOW! And here's why!

The Government wants us all to save gasolin

The Government wants us to save rubber.

The Government also wants to make most efficient use of transportation facilities now available—including cars now built and ready for sale.

You do not help the country by continuing to "get along" on a car no longer fully efficient, safe or dependably able to serve you in any necessary use.

If you can qualify under latest rationing rules, you are recognized as an essential driver.

As such, you are not only entitled to your share of available gasoline and rubber, but are in reality expected to make the best use of them.

Your Buick dealer can show you that you can more efficiently do this in a brand-new, gas-thrifty, solidly dependable new 1942 Buick than in an older car which may have seen better days.

So before jumping at conclusions, ge the whole story on new-car buying Drop in on your Buick dealer fo full details. He is at your service—any time.

Are you included in this list?

ARE YOU directly or indirectly engaged in the production of war materials or the prosecution of the war?

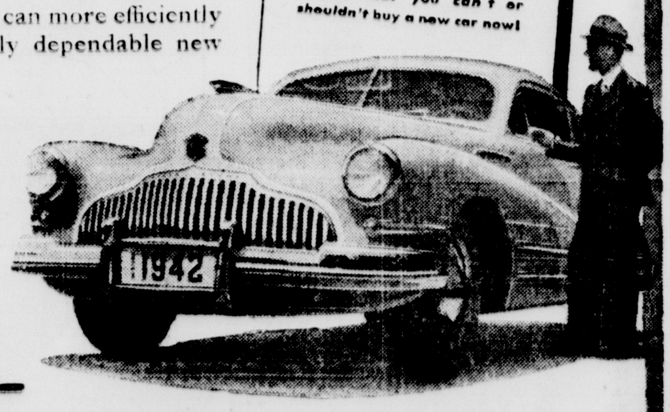

ARE YOU a physician, surgeon, nurse, veterinarian, clergyman or farmer?

DO YOU use your car in public service, such as fire or police, public health, highway maintenance work or the like?

ARE YOU owner of a taxicab or other vital means of public transportation?

ARE YOU a newspaper wholesaler, or a salesman in essential fields connected with war work?

THESE ARE the broad groups who are eligible under present rationing rules to buy new automobiles. There are other details of eligibility, of course, but if you are included in the above, it will pay you to see your Buick dealer now and get full information. Get the facts before you assume either that you can't or shouldn't buy a new car now!

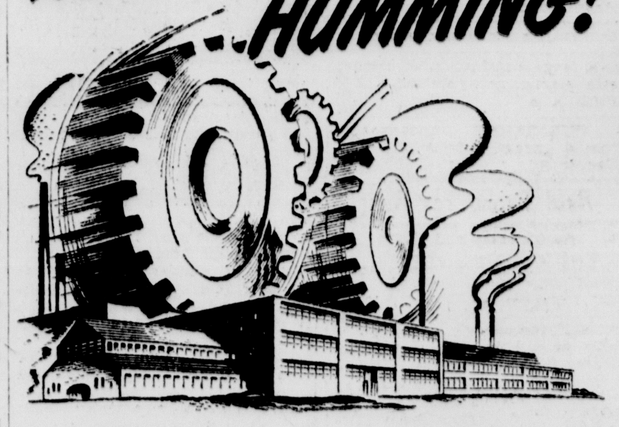

If you're eligible to buy—

Better Buy Buick!

Net Event In Semi-Finals

Philadelphia, July 10—(AP)—It was Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood, Calif., and Holmes Cathrall of Scranton, Pa., in the semi-finals of the National Interscholastic Tennis tournament today with the winner to meet top seeded Frank Willett tomorrow for the title.

Willett, former National Boys' Indoor Champion from Anniston, Ala., trimmed Tom Falkenburg, in straight sets, 6-1, 8-6, yesterday to deprive the spectators of what might have been an all-brother title match.

The first semi-final match in the doubles competition also was scheduled for today with the Falkenburg's meeting Harland L. P. Wendell and Joseph Scheerer, Jr., of Hill School, Pottstown, Pa.

Bruce Daniels and Donald Skakle of Worcester, Mass., Academy, reached the semi-finals with a 6-2, 6-4, victory over Stanley McCausland and Bob Betson, Landsdowne, Pa.

Farm Stake Is Trot Feature

Goshen, N. Y., July 10—(AP)—The senior division of the Village Farm Stake for pacers tops today's Grand Circuit card at the Goshen Raceway and, as in yesterday's two-year-old division, elimination heats will be required because of the size of the field.

Thirteen three year old pacers were named overnight for the $5,100 stake. As a result six will go to the post in the first elimination dash and seven in the second. Of these, the first four in the first heat and the first five in the second qualified for the final.

Heading the field is Court Jester, the undefeated colt that cost Fred Egan and Rupe Parker only $500 a couple of years ago and won ten races and $21,000 last season. Court Jester won his first three-year-old start here last Saturday in easy fashion and is a heavy favorite to repeat today.
